In times of winter the weather is chilly and we have to wear these clothes in order to be comfortable! So it is most important that we take proper care of our clothes. Today I'll show you how to take care of your rainbows coats, what are the best tricks, habits and tips that will help you to keep the colors of this amazing coat undamaged. To prevent color fade avoid overheating The first thing that you need to know that the first material that the cotton material gets damaged by the heat. The real reason behind this problem is that the temperatures of our wardrobe are not constant and sometimes it is really cold while sometimes it is too warm! Try to avoid this phenomenon by wearing the clothes at the range of the appropriate temperatures. If you really need to wear the coat in conditions with a high temperature, the best solution is to give the coat to someone who lives in a cold country. Do not store in the detergent Many of us are not aware that washing an item that contains a lot of colors or a fabric, can cause them to fade or reduce their brightness. If you are not aware of this problem, you should know that you can avoid it using the proper washing methods. The first thing you have to do is taking the item out of its container and gently shake it in order to get the stains off. Do not scrub the item and wash the item inside a wooden tub. The best solution would be use a gentle machine that is suitable for your wool clothes. If you are using a washing machine, make sure that you do not use the machine to wash the wet items. You should always avoid the way of using a dryer, it can cause major damage to your textile items. To prevent color fade do not use a dryer Do
